Miss. Landing developers await site approval

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Backers of the $100 million Mississippi Landing resort casino complex say there's hope yet that the facility will be built in Hancock rather than Harrison County.

The Hancock County project is not dead, nor is it on the front burner, says Gulfport attorney Ben Stone, who represents a group of five Nevada developers backing the project.

Stone said while the developers seek site approval for an alternative project in Harrison County, the Hancock County project, much larger in scope, remains their first preference. Hancock County officials, who expect the facility would

Plans for the Mississippi Landing facility, at Highway 603 and I-10, were announced in July, drawing immediate, hot protest from existing casino operators. The Mississippi Casino Operators Association claims that the proposed casino would be floating in the Jordan River — a site not allowed under state law.

The association also protested that allowing a casino to operate just off I-10 would severely damage the industry that's developed along Highway 90. Stone, however, has built a

Veterans Day

Parade set Thursday in BSL, followed by ceremony, lunch

Three local high school bands will highlight the Hancock County Veterans Day parade Thursday, Nov. 11, in Bay St. Louis.

Host for the parade is Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139; it is sponsored by all of the county's veterans organizations.

The parade will form at 9:30 a.m. on the U.S.-90 service road west of Riemann Funeral Home and will begin at 10.

The route this year will be Highway 90 west to Blue Meadow Road, Blue Meadow Road to Green Meadow, and disband in the Legion's parking lot.

Gen. Wallace Farragut will be featured speaker at a Veteran's Day service honoring all veterans. Following the ceremony, a lunch is planned at Post 139's home for all veterans and their guests, said Joe Bermond, post commander.

Last year's Veterans Day ceremonies were hosted by the Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland.

Flags for memorial drive

The Bay Flag Memorial moved a little closer to its goal with a $100 donation to the fund from Hancock Women's Club. Co-sponsored by the City of Bay St. Louis, American Legion Post 139, Bay-Waveland Elks Lodge and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3253, the project goal is to purchase 90 American, 40 Mississippi and all state flags to be displayed on the new light poles along Hwy. 90 for special occasions and holidays. Pass aldermen slate special meeting Mon.

BY AMY PICKICH

Pass Christian alderman Vonnice Bodenschatz said she has requested a special meeting of the board of aldermen Monday, November 12 at 4:30 p.m. at City Hall.

Bodenschatz said she other aldermen have questions concerning actions taken at Tuesday's meeting, which lasted until about 1 a.m. She also said Mayor Ted Lawyer, who has been on medical leave since July, will be notified of the meeting.

At Tuesday's meeting, the board voted 3-1 to name mayor pro tem Gene Rogers street commissioner with a salary of $1,000 a month for November and December.

Alderman Jeff Emerson, who gave the only dissenting vote, said Friday that he was concerned as to where the funds would come from to pay Rogers the additional salary. Emerson also said no job responsibilities of street commissioner were outlined.

Emerson called Rogers' new title "a mechanism to compensate him for his time" since the mayor's leave of absence.

"There are no statutes and no legislation to provide for the compensation of the mayor pro tem," said Emerson. "This is simply a mechanism to compensate him for his time."

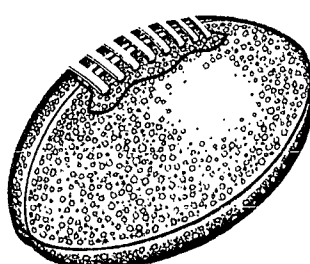

Emerson said Lawyer has continued to receive his full salary since he took a medical leave of absence, but the mayor's car is parked at the city barn.

Emerson has suggested the alderman share the day-to-day duties at City Hall on a time-sharing basis to alleviate Rogers' increased responsibilities. He also suggested Rogers use the mayor's car instead of asking for more than $200 compensation for gas expenses.

He said at this time he is pursuing matters further with the state attorney general's office concerning the salaries of mayor and mayor pro tem.

According to Bodenschatz, the meeting Monday will address the issue of reducing the mayor's salary to compensate Rogers and the clarification

Ballet Magnificat offers free performance in BSL

BY AMY PICKICH

Ballet Magnificat, the only professional Christian ballet company in the United States, will perform Saturday November 13 at 2 p.m. in the Bay High School Auditorium.

Local ballet instructor and event promoter Sharon Loiacano encourages the public to arrive early for the one-night-only show, as last year's performance was standing room only. She said the event is free, but donations will be accepted.

Loiacano said the non-demonstration and non-profit ministry gives free performances wherever they are requested. She said they are able to do so as the communities where they perform help with the costs.

Virginia Wagner, who is also helping to promote the event, said there will be no reserved seats since it is free to the public. She said doors will open at 1:30 p.m.

According to Wagner, there will be about seven performers and they will speak after 1 1/2 hour performance.

She said the community is "ecstatic" about this year's performance, especially those who saw the company when they performed here two years ago. Loiacano said this is a great opportunity for the public to witness "a very unique performance by world-class dancers."

The dance company, based in Jackson, was founded in 1986 by Kathy Thibodeaux, a 1982 silver medalist at the II USA International Ballet Competition.

Supervisors refinance debt at a savings to the county

BY AMY PICKICH

Hancock supervisors on Monday adopted resolutions concerning general obligation bond refinancing that will save the county $90,666.95.

According to municipal bond attorney Lucien Bourgeois, by combining two bonds with a call date of 2000, the county will save money and earn a lower average interest rate of 2.7-4.6 percent on portions of the county's debts.

"All this is doing is saving the county money," Bourgeois said.

Hancock County's bond rating was recently upgraded from

B-AA-1 to A by Moody's Investment Services in New York.

"Financially the county is better off," Bourgeois reported. "The county's A rating is a good rating. A lot of counties can't get that."

Bourgeois said the rating was due to the county's financial growth, improved fiscal condition and the 1989 sale of a $1.4 million resale and $1.2 million multipurpose bonds.

GALAXY CASINO
The board approved Galaxy Casinos Inc.'s proposed site location between Buccaneer State Park and Jubilee Casino for the county's possible third casino.

However, the board said all plans must go through the planning commission, whose items are subject to approval by the supervisors.

The board approved Compton Engineering's proposal to obtain a DEQ permit for Standard landfill rubbish site as either a Class 1 or Class 2 facility.

Compton will obtain soil samples for testing for reclassification. The county will pro-

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Breast cancer in women — it is rare in men — has long been thought to be introduced mainly through defective genes passed on among women in a family where such cancer is found.

But in recent years doctors have repeatedly observed overwhelming evidence that most female immigrants to the United States soon become victims of breast cancer at the U.S. rate.

These immigrants include the Japanese who have an extremely low incidence of breast cancer back in Japan. When Japanese women come here, they assume the same health patterns, hazards and statistics as Americans of many generations.

All this leads one to believe that the main triggers of cancer are not genetic but environmental and dietary, since these are the only variable in the lives of those Japanese women. Clearly, doctors need a major shift of concentration

Why, then, is this information not put at the disposal of American women at large, in order that they can take preventive measures against cancer? Why don't doctors, nurses and dietitians go out of their way to publicize these findings?

Particularly, so-called cancer-prone women definitely need to know these facts. Wouldn't it be great to discover that there are very few high-risk women, but mainly some women who are negligent of their dietary and environmental habits?

Since these findings are of crucial interest to all women, the high-risk in particular, why is this information kept mostly in the closet? No doubt, plair of human inertia is the main culprit, as always. We're slaves of ingrown habits.

The bad effects of this inertia are compounded by the disinterest, complacency and even opposition of most people to the dietary advice of doctors, nurses and dietitians. Many of these professionals are simply tired of being ignored.

I do hope and pray this is the principal reason why findings such as these are not better publicized. It has been suggested that there is a devious, mercenary motive for not pushing the best advice on avoiding breast and other cancer.

That same mercenary motive, namely money, likewise lies behind many of the medical prescriptions given to patients almost at random. Where is the money if potential patients are guided away from disease and hardly ever become ill?

Intensive health programs and the massive dissemination of health information do not drop much into the coffers of hospitals and doctors. While preventive medicine exists, it is not what most nurses and doctors emphasize and pursue.

Surgery, intensive care and extended medication keep the world of medicine on a roll. It is to be hoped that the prime focus of the Clinton administration will be the well-being and overall savings generated by preventive medicine.

In hot pursuit of the mercenary issue is the inconvenience issue. We do not want to inconvenience ourselves by avoiding cancer-causing fats, and we do not want to inconvenience others by "burdening" them with uncomfortable information.

Perhaps the best way to formulate most of this is to follow the route of admonition and correction. All of us need a great deal of both. In this particular instance, we need a call to sanity in our environmental and dietary habits.

This means that nurses, doctors and indeed all of us would share news, warnings, correction and healing as Jesus did.

Casino

Prior to that, the State Tax Commission had acted as the Gaming Commission.

By the time the new commission took office, controversy over the Mississippi Landing's site had reached full bloom. Backers of the project asked that its application for site approval be set aside temporarily, giving the new commission time to settle into office.

GOLD STRIKE CASINO

In mid-October, the Nevada investors filed notice of intent to seek site approval for a casino on the Bay of St. Louis -- in Harrison County. The proposed Gold Strike Casino would be on a site near the DuPont plant, accessed off I-10 via DeLisle Road.

Glenn Schaeffer, one of the Nevada principals in both projects, said the Harrison County casino complex would be a $60 million facility. That's about $40 million less than the investment planned in Hancock County, but the general nature of the two proposed complexes is similar.

The developers plan a single-level gaming vessel and a hotel for either facility. In Hancock, associated facilities would include a major Disney World-type family resort on a 600-acre tract now under option. The complex would also include a marina, convention center, restaurants and amphitheater.

In Harrison County, the optioned 60-acre site would accommodate land-based entertainment facilities for children, like arcades and playgrounds, according to Schaeffer.

Stone says either one of the proposed developments would be built entirely before the casino would seek a permit to operate -- a pledge that no other casino has made so far.

That commitment, he said, may well help the developers before the new Gaming Commission.

The new commissioners have gone on record demanding casinos have stronger ties to the state -- physically. Commissioners say they want to see hotels, restaurants and other land-based facilities constructed, to keep the casinos from pulling anchor and going to other locations.

"Before we make site approval, we want to get more details on what land-based facilities they plan to build," commission chairman Stuart Irby of Jackson was quoted recently as saying.

That's exactly what Mississippi Landing's backers have in mind, says Stone, and the commitment that the developers have to build on land immediately should be a major plus for the proposed Mississippi Landing, or Gold Strike.

Meanwhile, some Hancock County proponents of Mississippi Landing say there's no more justification for rejecting its proposed site than the site for Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis. Casino Magic's barge casino is floating in a marina harbor which is connected to the Bay of St. Louis by a canal. Mississippi Landing's site is a former borrow pit, created during construction of I-10, also connected to the Bay.

"If that site's not legal, Casino Magic is not legal," said Alton Kellar, a member of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

"They have a man-made canal," he said of Casino Magic. "I can't understand how they'd authorize that one and not this one."

"They (Gaming Commission) made that determination several years ago," said Casino Magic general manager Al Kokesch. "It's a non-issue. Our site is approved."

State Sen. Bill Johnson, whose district includes Harrison and Hancock counties, said raising the issue of Casino Magic's site at this point is "a little late, after the fact." Still, he said, there could be a legitimate question of fairness in allowing the Casino Magic site but rejecting the Mississippi Landing site.

Johnson said what's needed is a clear-cut delineation -- like a Mason-Dixon line -- to define where gaming will be allowed. For example, he said, officials could draw a line and allow casinos only on one side of it.

In any event, some plan needs to be developed to get the Gaming Commission out of the Thibodeaux's purpose in forming the company was to present the gospel of Jesus Christ to the widest possible audience through the medium of dance, drama and personal witness; to help in the restoration of dance as a worshipful part of the life of the Church; to present public service performances for special audiences such as children's homes, hospitals and senior citizens' centers; and to provide a visual and artistic witness to the arts community as a whole and to the dance community.

Ballet

Thibodeaux also formed a ballet school offering technical and spiritual preparation for dancers.

Loiacano said five of her students attended a summer program with the company in Jackson last year.

Ballet Magnificat's programs combine classical and modern ballet and are aimed at witness worship and praise. Musical selections include pieces by Steve Green, Phil Driscoll, Kemper Crabb, Steve Fry, Sandi Patti and Michael Card.

The company has performed over 500 times at regular church services, special church events, revival meetings, conferences and special outreach and community events throughout the United States and Canada. They have also performed in Europe.

vide labor and equipment to excavate various areas to the elevation of the bottom of the trench so soil samples can be taken.

Bill Johnson from Compton said the project's cost will not exceed $3,500 without prior approval of the supervisors.

The board approved a motion by Supervisor Howard Lizana to pay mechanics comp time instead of time and a half.

Lizana said mechanics are the only ones in the county who receive time and a half instead of comp time for emergency calls.

Mobile Medic vice president Steve Delahousey updated the board on services to the county.

In urban areas of the county, Delahousey reported 325 calls, 221 of which were non-emergencies, with an average response time of 6.14 minutes. In rural areas, he reported 125 calls, 37 of which were non-emergencies, with an average response time of 14.31 minutes.

Said Ladner, "We are fortunate to have a professional operation such as yours in the county."

DEER PARK PROBLEMS

The board approved Deer Park residents' requests to lower the speed limit on Katie, Deborah, Karly and Cody roads and the beginning of Old Kiln from 35 to 25 m.p.h.

They requested members of the board and sheriff's department attend a meeting with citizens to beef up patrol in the area. They also requested roadside lighting to increase security.

Resident Jim Shonkwiler said there is no response from the sheriff's office unless a crime is committed.

Shonkwiler, with resident Rose Garner reported repeated robberies and drive-by shootings in the area.

"We have people that come out there who think it's a shooting range," Garner said.

The board agreed to work with residents in coming up with a plan, but cited lack of funds for lighting roadside areas in the county. Ladner also suggested a neighborhood watch.

Jeff Taylor from Gulf Regional Planning told the board that funds will be available April 1, 1994, to help cities with low-profile fishing reefs. He asked the board to determine areas.

The board approved Hancock schools superintendent Myrna Bourgeois' request to maintain school bus turnarounds. The board directed road superintendent Sam Cuevas to contact Bourgeois on the specifics of the school board's request for assistance on the road to the alternative school.

Supervisor Robert Peterson requested county engineer Larry Seal look into the casino impact on Lakeshore Road.

ITEMS APPROVED

In other matters the board approved:

- the employment of Cathy Hurt at the tax assessor's office;
- the low bid from Norse Bookbinding of $60 per book for binding some 60 books in the tax assessor's office;
- the resignation of Rick Boutwell from the sheriff's department;

- the payment of $235.11 for sheriff's department credit card;
- the claims docket for November;
- the county payroll for October 16-31;
- and the park, election and planning commission payrolls.

The board adjourned until 9 a.m. November 15.

business of site approval, Johnson said, clearing the commission to deal extensively with licensing issues.

In addition, he said, area governments need to consider creating zoning especially for the gaming industry. That way, local officials "could regulate gaming developments as effectively as they can residential, industrial and commercial developments."

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Stop, Look, Listen!

These are the three words for motorists crossing railroad tracks I have heard many times.

The city of Bay St. Louis has installed some fresh new stop signs at the city's railroad crossings to remind motorists.

Really it is the law for all vehicles to stop before crossing a railroad crossing.

Have you ever noticed a commercial bus, school bus or fuel tanker? They stop at all railroad crossings.

The law is not just for them, but for every motorist. When we approach a railroad crossing we should all stop, look and listen.

The stop signs are to remind everyone of the importance of stopping before crossing the tracks.

Happy motoring to everyone.

The Star Award was a very big honor given to GE Plastics by the U.S. Department of Labor and Health Administration.

Congratulations are in order for each and every employee and contractor employee at GE Plastics at the Port Bienville Industrial Park.

The Star Award is not something an industry 'earns overnight,' it is something which has to be earned over a number of years and has to be continued to be earned.

The Star designation is OSCHA's highest award under the Voluntary Protection Program and honors work sites across the nation achieving the highest level of excellence in their safety and health programs.

Steve Grover, GE Plastics manager, attributes the Star Award to the dedication of each and every employee at the Hancock County Port Bienville Industrial Park.

There are many industries in the nation, and GE Plastics joins a group of only 116 in the nation and becomes only the fourth in the state of Mississippi.

Congratulations again to everyone associated with GE Plastics.

Anti-litter hotlines set up in Bay, county

Hotlines have been implemented for people in Bay St. Louis and outside the city limits to call if they see someone toss trash out of a vehicle.

If you see someone do this, memorize or write down the vehicle's license number and call the appropriate hotline number. A recording will instruct you as to how to report the violation.

After the vehicle registration is traced, a letter will be sent by the appropriate authority to the vehicle owner. The letter does not accuse the vehicle owner of throwing the trash, but states that an occupant of a vehicle which is or was owned by that person was seen throwing trash out of the vehicle.

The letter states that no charges are being filed at the time the letter is issued, but also reminds the person that littering is illegal and carries a $250 fine.

The numbers to call are 255-6234 for a violation witnessed in Bay St. Louis, and 255-6246 for one witnessed in the county.

Inland tugboat captains and pilots should be radar qualified

As a member of the Merchant Marine Committee, which oversees the Coast Guard, I recently attended a hearing on the Amtrak disaster near Mobile, Ala. After hearing the Coast Guard and Amtrak testimony I am of the opinion that there were four major mistakes, which when combined led to the disaster.

First, as a former Coast Guard search and rescue boat skipper, the rule of thumb requires that you be able to stop your vessel in one-half of the visibility. That is, if visibility is a quarter-mile, you should be able to stop your boat in one-eighth of a mile.

Obviously, if the towboat captain could not even see where his front barge was, he was operating at a speed faster than one-half of the visibility. Under those conditions he probably should not have been moving at all.

Second, because of the advances in technology most tugs and towboats are radar equipped. I am convinced as a result of the testimony that the pilot either did not understand the use of radar or his radar was not working properly.

By his own testimony, he thought the bridge was another barge and he was attempting to tie up to it. If his radar was properly tuned, he would have read the sides of the river and where the bridge lay in relation to the river.

Third, the most glaring mistake was that the Coast Guard said the river was not a navigable waterway, and therefore the bridge did not require lights. The river was 27 feet deep. It was wide enough for two barges abreast and three barges deep, and the Coast Guard said that the river was not a navigable waterway. That was a horrible mistake.

As we all know, the intercoastal waterway is only 12 feet deep and large barges operate in it every day. We also know that during storms and even in normal business, captains will fleet their barges just about anywhere they can find a few trees to tie up. Although lights can be deceptive in the fog, there is the distinct possibility that the pilot would have seen the lights and avoided the bridge.

Fourth, Amtrak officials said their safety system had worked. Their explanation was that if the rail had broken, Amtrak would have been notified that the bridge was damaged. Here was a rail that was bent well over three feet, and Amtrak called their safety system a success! Obviously, Amtrak needs to revisit this issue if a rail can be bent so far out of the norm without triggering an alarm.

It is often said that hindsight is 20/20. However, I am at the conclusion that the tugboat captain was unqualified in the use of radar. By law, the Coast Guard does not require inland tugboat operators to be radar qualified. But I believe that if any vessel gets underway in dense fog, the captain needs to be radar qualified. It is as simple as that.

As a result of the hearing I will push for legislation that will require tugboat captains and pilots to be proficient in the use of radar in order to get their license. I am of the opinion that had the pilot been proficient in the use of radar, perhaps this accident could have been avoided.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

What is our role?

As we embark on the new post-Cold War era, it is essential that the president, the Congress and the American people engage in debate about what role the U.S. military will play in the world's affairs.

Over the last year or so while we were cutting back our military, we have seen many new threats abroad that present various and different types of dangers to America and the world.

I am concerned that we have not determined a clear role for the military in this new era and there appears to be an ever increasing trend toward using U.S. troops in operations under United Nations command.

The Constitution gives the president as commander in chief great authority in using military force. But, the Constitution also provides that Congress play a role.

While I do not believe we should have 435 representatives and 100 senators trying to micromanage our foreign policy and national security issues, Congress would be neglecting our responsibility if we did not take a close look at America's role in such places as Somalia and Bosnia. That duty cannot be left to the president alone. We all have a role to play.

We need to stop the trend of allowing U.S. troops to become the point of the U.N. spear in world disputes. America should not become the world's police dog at the beck and call of the U.N.

It is unconscionable that as we shrink our military and defense budgets that we are expanding their role. We now have American troops in combat and/or non-combat roles in more than 60 countries throughout the world.

Before committing any more troops into hostile situations, we need to do three things. We must know what our goal is, we must know how to accomplish it, and we must know how to get out.

In 1991, we went into the Gulf War with the purpose of driving Saddam Hussein from Kuwait. We defined a goal, we took adequate forces, we won and came home.

President George Bush sent troops into Somalia with a single mission of feeding the starving people. We achieved that months ago but did not leave. Since then, we have tried our hand at nation building — a role ill-suited for the military. Then, we became the U.N.'s hired guns in tracking down a hoodlum.

This is the type of rudderless foreign policy that has put the lives of America's finest at risk. We need to get out of Somalia, and we should not even consider going into trouble spots such as Haiti or Bosnia without a clear goal.

History gives us examples of how American foreign policy has succeeded and failed. We succeeded in Desert Storm because we had a clear mission and we left when it was complete. We are failing in Somalia because we lost sight of why we were there.

It is past time to define an American foreign policy in the post-Cold War era before the problems of the world define it for us.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Turn the wheels for taxpayers

The wheels on the bus go 'round and 'round — let's just hope the Senate won't do the same during the 1994 legislative session after attending a government management conference in Texas.

Last week, 30 senators and Lieutenant Governor Eddie Briggs boarded a bus to Austin, Texas, in order to learn how to make state government more efficient. The conference, entitled "Managing for Results: Performance Measures in Government," was coordinated by the Governor's Office in Texas and the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas at Austin.

The purpose of the trip was for the Senate to find new ways to conserve money and to expand and improve the state's economy — actions long overdue in the Legislature.

If Mississippi Senators learned from the conference, they could save taxpayers millions of dollars with efforts similar to those of the state of Texas. Texas has saved taxpayers over $6 billion through the program.

As long as the bus wheels are turning to benefit the taxpayers, legislators should keep rolling.

Let's just hope the wheels don't go flat in the 1994 legislative session.

Mail-order regulations protect consumer rights

Fall is the season when mail boxes overflow with new catalogs in anticipation of Christmas. Unfortunately, as numbers of catalogs and catalog shoppers increase, so do the complaints.

Problems with mail orders represent the largest category of consumer complaints. Awareness of regulations established to protect consumer rights will enable consumers to have the maximum benefit for their efforts.

"Consumers have a responsibility as well as a right to report mail-order problems to help protect others from the same problems," said Dr. Beverly R. Howell, extension family economics and management specialist at Mississippi State University. "Too many people overlook problems with mail orders, and that's how fraudulent companies stay in business."

Howell said failure to deliver, long delays in delivery, failure to provide refunds for undeliverable goods and failure to answer letters of complaint are the most common problems.

Regulations established in 1976 by the Federal Trade Commission concerning mail-order merchandise require that:

—the mail-order company must notify the consumer within 30 days after receiving an order if the merchandise will not be shipped within the allotted time.

—the company must give the consumer the option to cancel the order if the delivery date cannot be met. No reply from the consumer automatically grants permission by the consumer to the company for the delay.

—the mail-order firm must provide the consumer with an adequate, cost-free means to notify the firm of a cancellation, such as a postage-paid card or toll-free number.

—if a refund is requested, the company must provide it. Companies are permitted one billing cycle to adjust a charge to a credit account and seven days to refund the money if the consumer paid in cash, or by check or money order.

Trash everywhere

Vandals left their mark on the Arrow C Car Wash in Waveland Friday by dumping trash everywhere. Owner Ernest Cuevas Jr. said this is not the first time vandals have struck. He said the office has been broken into, the fence has been torn down and all kinds of trash has been left, including animal carcasses. (Echo staff photo by Amy Pickich)

Doll and Toy Fund now taking names

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund will once again offer toys to needy boys and girls, Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, chairman said.

Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Gulf Coast Community Action and the Bay St. Louis Fire Department are now gathering names.

During the 1992 Christmas season, some 1,200 children received toys from the Hancock County Doll and Toy fund. Lizana said he expects more children this year because of the number of new residents in area.

Funding for the toys comes through the United Way of South Mississippi, business, industry and individual donations.

Some toys are also donated, new and slightly used. The program started out many years ago when Bay St. Louis Firefighters reconditioned several bicycles for needy youngsters in Bay St. Louis. It now has grown to include the entire county.

Assisting with delivery of toys are the Bay St. Louis and Waveland Police Departments, Hancock County Sheriff's Deputies and Hancock County Firefighters.

Several of the local merchants collect toys and also give special prices to Lizana for the Doll and Toy Fund.

"Without the assistance of the many friends of the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund along with the United Way, the magnitude of this program would not be possible," Lizana said.

Anyone interested in further information can reach Lizana or dispatcher/secretary Tammy Garber at 467-4736.

OTHER CONCERNS

There have also been questions concerning the mayor's official actions while on leave.

Last month the mayor wrote a letter on city letterhead endorsing Spectrum Gaming of MS, Inc.'s proposed casino site at Henderson Point.

Emerson said the only indication he has concerning the mayor's return to office is a letter presented to the board from Lawyer's doctor stating he would not return before January 1, 1994.

"The mayor's absence is a dilemma...the board will have to come to some sort of decision to determine what this letter means."

OPTIMISM

On a positive note, Bodenschatz said she is optimistic about working out the city's problems.

Bodenschatz cited the city's lack of structure as its weakest point, which she said the board is working on. She said the city needs to belong to the people again.

"We can't keep this 'borrowing from Peter to pay Paul' up," she said.

"We need structure again...And we need to get everything in writing."

Building fund donation

Father Charles Johnson, left, hospital board of trustees president and Hancock Medical Center administrator Don Henderson receive a check of $2,500 from auxiliary president Theresa Bourgeois during a luncheon Thursday at the Waveland Resort Inn. Auxiliary members presented the check as a final installment of their $7,500 pledge to the hospital. The donation will go to the building fund to help with the outpatient expansion project. HMC hosted the annual luncheon to honor the auxiliary volunteers. (Echo staff photo by Amy Pickich)

Howell said the FTC rule is limited to merchandise and does not cover "services connected with merchandise," such as mail-order photo finishing. Also excluded from coverage under the rule are magazines and other serial deliveries, seeds and living plants and orders made on a collect-on-delivery basis. To avoid mail-order mix-ups, Howell recommended several practical tips. Order merchandise well in advance of the date needed, and be sure to fill in the order form accurately and completely. Include the shipping and handling charges with your payment. Send a check or money order — never cash. Finally, keep a copy of the mail-order form and any communication received from the company for your records. "Consumers can minimize mail order problems by becoming familiar with consumer rights under the FTC rule," Howell said. "Mail-order shopping can add convenience and savings to families' shopping needs."

Hawks fall to Yellow Jackets

Special to the Echo
BY SHARON SAUCIER

Rain, rain and more rain...compounded by penalties, errors and a drive to win made the game between the Hancock High Hawks and the St. Martin Yellow Jackets one worth remembering for Hawk fans.

The Hawks (4-7) and Yellow Jackets (5-5) each needed a win to improve their records.

The Yellow Jackets drove the ball well in the first quarter, controlled the Hawk defense and gained significant yardage. With good field position on their own 49, they moved the ball easily and scored their first touchdown with 7:13 left in the first quarter.

The Hawks started their drive on their own 35-yard line and were unable to move the ball past the 50 before having to punt.

The Yellow Jackets were deep in their own territory at the 22-yard line, when St. Martin's Doug Hitt advanced 14 yards on a quarterback keeper for a first down.

After an incomplete pass, he connected with Chris Henry, who ran for a 62-yard touchdown with 1:08 left in the first quarter. After a successful two-point conversion, the Yellow Jackets led 14-0.

The Hawks were unable to move the ball on their next possession and were forced to punt in the beginning of the second quarter.

The Yellow Jackets were on the move to the Hawk end zone when Lance Wedgeworth intercepted a pass by Hitt on the Hawks 8-yard line, with 9:26 left in the second quarter.

The Hawks were deep in their own territory and moved the ball to their 35 before being forced to punt.

The Yellow Jackets completed another scoring drive before the end of the first half when Hitt ran the ball one yard into the end zone. John Bamman's kick was good, and the Yellow Jackets were ahead 21-0 at the half.

The Hawks looked like a new ball team when they came out of the locker room after halftime. Their offense dominated the third quarter and drove the ball hard against the Yellow Jackets.

With 3:20 left in the third quarter Wedgeworth went into the end zone 5 yards for a touchdown. Antonio Carillo's kick was good and the Hawks were finally on the scoreboard.

The Yellow Jackets only had the ball for three minutes in the quarter, and were unable to capitalize on their possession.

Hancock's Davis was attempting a pass to Wedgeworth and was intercepted, but the Hawks recovered the ball after forcing a fumble. The only problem was that they fumbled the ball away two snaps later and St. Martin kept the ball this time.

The Yellow Jackets were unable to move against the Hawk defense and were forced to punt.

Quarterback Davis connected with Wedgeworth for a 6-yard gain. After an incomplete pass, Davis was intercepted by Theo Cross, who fumbled with the Hawks recovering.

The Hawks worked hard, and showed they could play when the chips were down.

Davis went for a pass and connected with Wedgeworth,

Rocks lose 50-3

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

In what appeared to be another mud bowl, the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws ended the season winless with a 50-3 loss to the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

The Rocks played an impressive first half, getting on the board with an Allen Schaefer field goal and holding the 12th ranked Blue Devils to only 7 points.

"We played a good first half and were in the game until about midway through the third quarter. We just couldn't capitalize on PRC's mistakes," said coach Larry Ramsey.

On their first possession, the Rocks' quarterback Nathan Middleton rushed for 7 and 9 yards. The team was forced to punt.

A PRC penalty gained a first down for the Rocks. Elusive seatback Brandon Benoit avoided would-be tacklers for gains of 8 and 11. Middleton connected with Vince Moran for another 11 yards.

After an incomplete pass, Schaefer's field goal attempt was wide right with 6:35 in the first quarter.

PRC came out running. After moderate gains by quarterback Raphael Tillman, they had to punt. The Rocks were unable to convert and punted the ball away.

There was a fumble on the Blue Devil return, with Gathian Fertitta recovering. The Rocks had great field position at the PRC 23. Tackled for losses, SSC's Schaefer kicked a career long 44-yarder putting the Rocks ahead 3-0 with 11:49 in the half.

The Blue Devils came alive on a 12-play, 80-yard scoring drive behind the thunderous running of Terrence Smith. PRC sliced through the Rock defense for a touchdown with 3:52 left in the half. Torey Tarter added the PAT.

The Rock offense was unable to produce a first down and punted to the Blue Devils, who fumbled with SSC's Leo Seal recovering.

Unable to capitalize on PRC's mistakes, Middleton was intercepted by Demar Walker. In a half plagued with fumbles, PRC lost the ball with SSC's Jason Tilden recovering his second fumble of the night. The half ended 7-3.

Terrence Smith scored on an 11-yard run with 8:39 in the third quarter. The PAT by Tarter increased the Blue Devil's lead to 14-1.

The Rocks were forced to punt on their next possession. Tillman added 6 points for PRC on a 12-yard run with Tarter adding the PAT.

The Rocks had good field position after the kickoff, but PRC forced a fumble and recovered on the first play.

Terrence Smith pounded his way through the Rock defense, carrying the ball 17 times for 142 yards on the night. He scored on a 3-yard run with 11:56 left in the fourth quarter. Tarter's PAT made the score 28-3.

Behind the powerful running of Smith and Walker, the Blue Devils drove deep into Rock territory. Walker scored on a 7-yard run with Tarter adding the PAT.

The Rocks fumbled, giving PRC great field position. They responded with a scoring drive, pushing their lead to 42-3 with 5:44 to go in the quarter.

On the next Rock offensive possession a running back was tackled in the end zone for a safety.

The Blue Devils drove down the field, scoring on an 11-yard run by J.J. Graves for a 50-3 lead.

Quarterback Correy Gex connected with Mike Langlois and Bobby Williams for gains before being sacked. Schaefer's 30-yard attempt was unsuccessful.

Tigers win in D'Iberville

The Bay High Tigers upped their record to 6-4 with a season-ending 19-8 win over the D'Iberville Warriors Friday night in D'Iberville.

After a rainy and scoreless first quarter, Raleigh Murphy recovered a fumble on the D'Iberville 30 to set up the first score. Senior Sam Sheppard put six points on the board on a quarterback sneak, with Shawn Keener adding the PAT.

Warrior Keith Bradley broke into Tiger territory with a 27-yard run, followed by a 24-yard run to the one yard line by Keith Manz.

Quarterback Chris Daniels scored six on a quarterback sneak, with a two-point conversion by Keith Bradley to put D'Iberville on top 8-7.

The Tigers wasted no time answering the scoring play with a 65-yard pass from Sheppard to Xavier Lewis.

The half closed with a 13-8 lead for Bay High. With 2:28 remaining in the third quarter, Sheppard was met with a host of Warrior defenders as he attempted a quarterback sneak. The football popped loose, with Daniels recovering for D'Iberville.

The play was ruled dead after a 10-minute delay, when it was determined there had been an inadvertent whistle.

Leroy Hawkins scored on the next play with a two-point conversion try unsuccessful.

Bay High had 89 yards passing to D'Iberville's 51, while the Warriors racked up 212 yards rushing to the Tigers' 196. Lewis led the Tigers with 66 yards on nine carries. He also had two catches for 73 yards.

"In the second half, we made some minor adjustments," said BHS assistant coach Walt Esslinger. "Our kids came out and played with a lot of intensity in the second half."

"Some people have said this was a 'so-so' season for us," said BHS head coach Rocky Gaudin. "I think it was a good season. I am very proud of our kids...we have the greatest players in the world."

The Tigers finished the season third in district with a 4-3 record in Division 8, 4A play.

Bay High will lose 10 seniors this year, according to the coach, but will have several seasoned players returning. "We started five or six sophomores on defense every game this year," he said.

Bay High players of the week

Bay High head football coach Rocky Gaudin announced outstanding varsity football players of the week for last week's 15-14 win over Long Beach High.

Outstanding offensive players included Xavier Lewis, Keith Corr, Dwayne Antoine, Benny Murphy and Brad Esteve. Outstanding defensive players included Charles Hawkins, Richard Benton, J.T. Tillman, Malcolm Day and Wali Shabazz.

According to Gaudin, "the win was a total team effort." "Players fought back from a 14-0 deficit to beat a very good Long Beach team. We made crucial plays when we needed to and played very well in spite of driving rain and wind."

"The key play was Antoine's touchdown with 12 seconds left in the first half on an audible play by senior quarterback Sam Sheppard."

Touchdown Club players of the week included Brad Esteve, offense and Raleigh Murphy, defense.

Pizza Hut players of the week included Xavier Lewis, offense and Richard Benton, defense.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Bay High junior varsity football team walked away from their last game of the season with an 8-2 win over St. Stanislaus.

According to Gaudin, the team finished with a record of 5-2-0 as the 1993 Gulf Coast Conference champions.

Outstanding offensive players included Jared Freeman, Reggie Williams, M.J. Krankey, Lydell Haynes and T.J. Hawkins.

Outstanding defensive players included Nick Saucier, Willie Dequeant, Donnie Ray, James Benton and Daniel Murphy.

Said Gaudin, "The junior varsity came back from a poor performance against Pass Christian to win Gulf Coast Conference J.V. Championship."

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Soup has been part of the world's cuisine ever since fire has been known to man; and even before man had learned to make any sort of fireproof pottery, he prepared soups in animal skins or sea shells over an open fire.

And, because there were no spoons before the Middle Ages, it was the custom to sip soup from a bowl of sorts, or to dip bread into it. The method was known as "sop" or "sup" and the word later became "soup." The word "supper," in fact, came from the word "soup," as for many in earlier times, dinner consisted only of soup.

The first soups made on this continent were cooked up centuries ago by native Americans, who filled watertight wooden, leather or wicker vessels with chunks of food in liquid, and then added white-hot stones to heat the soup. Or, they used buffalo carcasses or stomachs, cooking the soup over a low fire, and later learning to make containers of pottery which could "take the heat," as we say these days.

And, of course, the Indians made their soups from the foods available; the native American beans, corn, and pumpkins, combining these with wild game or with seafood. So, when the colonists arrived, tugging along their iron kettles, they found that soup was already an important item on the menu!

Along with their cooking pots, the colonists added their own touches from their native lands, such as domesticated beef and chicken, garden vegetables and such. They cooked large pieces of meat and vegetables in a pot with liquid, then served the broth separately. And, all through the years, succeeding groups of immigrants brought its own food and ways of cooking.

As I write this, the wonderful aroma of beef soup a-simmering is wafting towards my desk, as I am cooking up a beef brisket in my big soup pot, cooking "Beef Bouilli" — or boiled beef, although, of course, you never boil it, you let it simmer away to a delicious pot of broth and tasty meat.

Simmer it below the boiling point for a few hours, so that it won't turn tough and stringy. (A bone-in chuck roast is also excellent in this soup, or rump roast or short ribs.) I prefer the brisket, and often serve it country-French or Cajun style, with whole carrots and onions, and at times, potatoes as well, adding the vegetables to the pot during the last hour of cooking time. Here's:

BEUF BOUILLI (Boiled Beef)

4 lbs. brisket or rump, etc.
Enough water to cover
Fresh ground or coarse pepper, salt as desired
2 bay leaves, several sprigs celery and parsley leaves
1 onion, sliced

Soup warms up winter evenings

Dash of Tabasco
1 carrot, sliced

Wipe the brisket with a damp cloth, and dredge it in flour. Brown in bacon drippings or oil, and place in a large pot along with seasonings, and cover with water. Cover the pot, bring to a boil, lower the fire and simmer for approximately 3 hours or less, until the meat is tender, pinching a bit off and tasting as needed.

I serve the broth first, followed by the boiled beef, sliced — and, always, along with horseradish. This is tasty, served hot or cold. At times I quickly make a horseradish sauce, stirring 1/4 cup of prepared horseradish into a cup of sour cream or whipped cream or yogurt. At other times, I add a tablespoon or so of the horseradish and one of lemon juice to a cup of cream sauce; and at times I simply slather on the horseradish "as is."

Hancock school bus driver marks 35 years behind the wheel

Special to the Echo
By Cindy Havard

After 35 years behind the wheel of a school bus, Mrs. Shirley Shubert still has a twinkle in her eyes as she talks about her kids and her job.

"My boys were raised on my school bus," Shubert said. "My father drove a milk truck, and that is what I learned to drive in."

"When Mr. Kenneth McCarty, former superintendent of unless they were in school.

"Everyone knew my kids. I would drive the bus for all the field trips and ball games. Bus drivers were hard to find because we had to volunteer our time. In 1987 bus drivers started getting paid for these trips."

"Things have surely changed a lot. When I started my first bus route in Logtown, my husband would have to pull the school bus half way around my one to take a little time to talk to them.

"That is why when I have a problem on my bus, the first thing I do is talk to the parents. Then I sit the child down and talk to them. I let them know right up front what I will and will not allow."

"I also explain why it is so important for them to behave on a school bus and how quick an accident can happen. I haven't written one child up this year, but I have sent several 'momma' notes home."

"I would like to ask parents to please listen very carefully if your child has a problem on the school bus. Get to the bottom of the problem. Talk to everyone you can to get the problem resolved quickly. So much can happen so fast."

"If a child stands up or yells and the bus driver takes his eyes off the road for one second, in that one second an accident could occur. The traffic on our routes has gotten terrible and will continue to get worse."

"It is too dangerous to use a flag boy anymore. I wouldn't want my child or anyone else's child standing on the road. Now, more than ever, we need the parents' complete support and understanding if a problem arises."

"The advice I have given to new bus drivers in the past is: If you keep your bus clean — the kids behave better. Never let a child open or close the bus door (in 35 years I am the only person who has ever opened and closed my bus door). Never allow a child to stand on the stairwell while the bus is in motion. Never drive faster than 40 miles an hour unless you are on a long trip. Never yell or argue with a child — tell them straight what is and what is not allowed."

"Mrs. Shirley not only counsels her own students," commented Myrna Bourgeois, superintendent, "I've seen her counseling kids who have caused problems on other buses. People tend to forget how important a role bus drivers play in an ordinary school day. We are very fortunate to have many drivers who demonstrate the same high standards as Mrs. Shirley."

education, asked if I was interested in driving a school bus, I knew I could handle the job; but I was concerned about what I would do with my son, Bobby, who was almost two years old.

"Mr. McCarty said I could take Bobby with me, so I decided to give it a try. In 1959, I began my first bus route in Logtown, which was located in Pearlington. I would sit Bobby on the heater next to me."

"As soon as my second son, Michael, was born, I went back to work. He was so little, he rode in a box on the floor next to me."

"When Randy, my third son, was born, he rode in a baby carrier on the front seat. Michael sat in front of him, and Bobby rode on the heater."

"Then when Scotty, my fourth son, was born, Bobby was big enough to hold him while I drove the bus. In 1975, the year Scotty started first grade, we were told our children were no longer allowed to ride with us, bus route with our 1952 green and black Ford to get the bus started. The buses were in real bad shape. If one of the wheels went into a deep hole, someone would have to pull us out because the bus didn't have enough power."

"On rainy days, the kids would have to cover the holes in the floor with their shoes to keep from getting mud splashed on them. Over the years I have had six new school buses. The condition of our buses have improved 100 percent."

"Kids have also changed. Years ago, the kids on my bus would sing songs or cheer during bus trips. One year the kids on my route made up a song about our bus."

"I can't let my kids sing anymore. They jump out of their seats and start dancing. I think kids misbehave to get attention."

"Both parents have to work now to make ends meet. Sometimes all they need is for some-
